Rejuvenating!

Iris home fragrances promise to soothe your senses...

It's the end of summer. And while you wait for the rain God to oblige, you can create a refreshing space within your home with home fragrances from Iris.

Harnessing aromacology, the science that studies the effect of fragrances on human moods, Iris has come out with a range of products to infuse fresh air in your home with aromas that refresh, renew and rejuvenate your senses... While you once depended on fresh flowers to dress up your home, you can now add another dimension to the décor of your home with the fragrance of rare herbs and flowers like patchouli, mint, lavender, jasmine, or even fruity scents like orange, apple, cinnamon and melon. Iris brings aroma dispensers in the form of reed diffusers, fragrance vaporizers, pot pourri, aroma candles and fragrance stones, all of which can be integrated as décor elements in your house. Available in attractive packs, Iris home fragrances are the ultimate in rejuvenating your body, mind and spirit.
